MODULE C – Professional Training in Chue Style Feng Shui

The Professional Training in Chue Style Feng Shui, also known as Module C, is a 24-day training programme that includes extensive theory and practical on-site consultation experience.

Along with classroom work the student will have to complete homework, hence home study is required. The training programme prepares the student to sit The Chue Foundation Practitioner examination in Chue Style Feng Shui, which is held once the Practitioners Training Programme has finished. The examination is optional. It is an additional cost to the Vocational Training Programme.

Learning to be a Chue Style Feng Shui consultant requires knowledge of many methods and calculations along with an understanding of how the environment can affect each individual, property or city. In Module C many methods are taught, so that a strong analysis can be made. The flow of energy, where the problems are coming from, how to construct or balance buildings within the existing landscape are all skills of the fully prepared practitioner. Understanding the person is also necessary, hence 4 Pillar astrology is also taught in this fascinating course using the 10,000-year calendar in Chinese.

Only students that have completed Module A and B may attend Module C.

A brief outline of Module C's syllabus:

- 10,000 Year Calendar; learn to read the calendar
